The Problem of Narcotics

The evil of narcotics is one that strikes both directly and indirectly at the home.

There are about 8,000 drug addicts, or dope fiends, as they are more commonly called, in Canada. They consume and here is an even more startling figure, about $80,000 worth of drugs every day.

The danger from the widespread use of narcotics in Canada, is that drug-addicted breed drug addicts; each one is an agony of evil who will try to put other victims into his trap, which he can then profit by.

The four main drugs that have caused addictions are opium, morphine, cocaine and heroin. Opium is the juice of the white poppy, cultivated mainly in Hindustan and Asiatic Turkey, and thickened by evaporation.

Opium would not be so important to us, but for the fact that other drugs that are used most extensively in Canada, come from opium.

About twenty years ago, a French scientist found that opium could produce morphine, or morphine, which was named after the god of sleep, Morphus, from opium.

Sixty-five years later another chemist, this one an Austrian, found by experimenting with cocaine leaves that he could produce cocaine.

Just thirty years ago, a German scientist found that he could take from opium a derivative drug which was called heroin. It is three or four times stronger than morphine, and is blamed largely for the increase in drug use on this continent since the war. At first heroin was not believed to be habit-forming, and was used on that assumption. But two years after its discovery, it was found to be as bad, if not worse, in getting a grip on its victim. It has been found to be more potent, more powerful, and more necessary for their purpose. But it continues on in the thoughts of the world, a dangerous drug.

All these three drugs, morphine, cocaine and heroin, are white powders, bitter to the taste and soluble in water. All are deleterious, both mentally and physically. The habitual use of any of them will bring death, and except for the opium, the slowest to kill, morphine, the next, while heroin is the most rapid of all.

For example, to compare the drug habit with the liquor habit: taken at once it will kill fifteen hundred men.

Chemistry has given us these drugs, and passed them on to the medical profession. The doctors are the exception to the practice of heroin, to name just one.

But mankind was not satisfied with that, and the use of these drugs spread to people who did not need them. Now the combined wisdom of chemistry, medicine, and governments, is not sufficient to strike down the pernicious.

There are fantastic stories at times of people who have become drug addicts because they were given prescriptions in a time of need and that they continued to take them addicts. Those are very rare cases, and hardly need to be taken into consideration. The use of drugs is spread about entirely by people who profit greatly by creating other addicts.

Thousands of tons of poisonous drugs are consumed every year by the human race. Less than one per cent of the total consumption is necessary for medical purposes.

Before heroin came into such general use, adults were, in the main, the only addicts. The dealers in heroin, however, recruit among their customers young children. The average age of the heroin addict is about 22 years of age, which means that he must have become addicted some years before he was born.

Again to compare the drug habit with the liquor habit: it takes some time of regular drinking before a youth becomes a regular drunkard. Not so with heroin. An ounce of heroin can make two thousand addicts within a week. As well as that, a drunkard sometimes serves as a useful example with which to point the warning ear. In fact, drunkenness as a general rule, will always be a greater temptation to a person who is not an alcoholic. No so the heroin addict. He begins right away to drag others into the net. His is used as a recruiting agent for the operators who are making the money. The more heroin he gets, the more he craves. He is told that in order to get more of it, he must introduce more customers. And so the perfidious spreads.

Fighting Forest Fires At Night

Miner's Carbide Lamp Used By Rangers In Work Of Extinguishing Fires

Equipment is now in use by the ranger service in Alberta to fight forest fires at night, when such work is most valuable, owing to the fires dying down at dark. The chief item of special equipment is the miner's carbide lamp, which fits over the fire-fighter's cap and so is located just above his forehead. This leaves his hands free to work, and gives the light just where desired, both for travel in reaching the fire and for the work of extinguishing the fire.

WOMEN WHO SUFFER

Amazons Responsible For Most Of The Ills Of Girls and Women

Medical scientists state that most of the ills among growing girls and women are due to the fact that the blood is either poor in quality or quantity. The cause of the anemia is the cause of low spirits, languor, the poor appetite, breathlessness, and the like.

There is no aid for many women.

Women are a burden for so many women. There is no aid for any woman to suffer from anemia. The only way to cure anemia is quickly banished by taking Dr. William's Pink Pills. It is the only fact that can create an abundance of new rich blood—the wonderful reputation is based on this.

Thousands of formerly weak and ailing women have cheerfully participated in the work of their restoration to good health to Dr. William's Pink Pills. One of these is Dr. William's Pink Pill Club. A. L. Smith, president of the Winnipeg Flying Club, was chosen chairman of the initial meeting.

Canada's Economic Conditions

Confidence Is Felt By Big Financial Men In Future of the Dominion

In the face of the serious decline in prices of late, Premier Mackenzie King recently made a brief statement in newspaperman in which he desired that economic conditions in Canada had never been sounder, nor in any time in history more stable. The prime minister, however, is of the opinion that foreign investors should in itself be a factor in inspiring confidence in the Dominion and its future.

It is at times like these, said Mr. King, that we realize how important the soundness of stability in laws and general soundness of business in a country, the Dominion's position was, secure, and the hope is to the growth and development of the Dominion.

Mr. King also said that the importance of stability in laws and general soundness of business in a country, the Dominion's position was, secure, and the hope is to the growth and development of the Dominion.

Canadian Flyer Organizes First Convention Of Its Kind At Fort William

With nearly 20 delegates from coast to coast in attendance, the first all-Canadian aviation convention was held at Fort William, Ontario, last Saturday, under the chairmanship of Frank J. Williams, president of the Winnipeg Flying Club, who was chosen chairman of the initial meeting.

The first business of the convention was the organization of a central club for all the members of the Dominion to be known officially as the "Canadian Flying Club Association."

This association will be official spokesman of the various clubs throughout the Dominion, and will attempt to solve many of the problems of flying clubs from the different districts.

Delegates from the several clubs will be known as the board of governors, and this body annually will hold a general meeting.

Demand Cessation Of All Money Grants For Military Purposes

Winnipeg.—Demand for cessation of all money grants by the dominion provincial and municipal governments for military purposes was contained in a resolution passed by the all-Canadian Council of Labor in its annual convention here.

Abolition of the entire cadre movement from Canadian schools was also demanded in the resolution, which urged that further money grants be used for cadets.

Resolved unanimously by a number of delegations to the convention that no money grants be made for military purposes by the various governments, and that the same be done before the convention for the greater part of the afternoon and only by unanimous vote was the resolution passed.

Allied discrimination by certain United States industries operating in Canada was brought out in detail on a resolution adopted by the convention, calling for better labor conditions in Canada.

Fighting for the International Labor Union was manifested by several speakers. The American firms were urged to have demands that no one unionists but those belonging to the international union be given employment.

It was charged in the executive board's report that the craft unions, controlled by the American Federation of Labor, were responsible for the "impersonal treatment of the workers, politically and economically, in their own country, and responsible for the slight regard in which labor had been held in Canada."

The congress decided to request the Ontario government that boarding schools be constructed at intervals of not more than 120 miles in the territory west of the Great Lakes to the Manitoba boundary.

German Air Liner Wrecked.

Six Persons Were Killed and Two Injured in Crash

Munich, Baden, Germany.

Six persons were killed and two injured in the crash of a big German air liner bound from Berlin from Croydon. Three of those killed were passengers and three were crew members.

One of the survivors was Prince Eugene Schauburg-Lippe, second cousin of a former reigning prince of one of the oldest German royal houses. He was severely injured and his pilot was killed.

The prince was injured but is expected to recover. The other injured man, Lieut.-Commander Glen Kidston, widely known racing motorist, is in a serious condition.

The crash which was followed by the machine bursting into flames, is believed to have been caused by the pilot flying into a hillside during a fog.

Behind the remains of the air liner was a large fire which had been torn from the ground by the big machine's last lung. The crash and the burst of flames followed immediately, and, after a few blinding seconds, those remained in the charred wreckage in which the victims had been trapped.

This is an issue that friends and foes of labor are watching with keen attention and the government's handling of it will have bearing on its fate.

Walker Again Mayor Of N.Y.

New York.—Mayor James Walker, more familiarly known as "Jimmy" to his constituents, was elected to office again from the Democratic party on the crest of a democratic tidal wave of great proportions. He defeated Congressman Florentio H. LaGuardia, candidate of the Republican and Fusionists, by a plurality of 497,165.

A twenty dollar gold piece that was insured for a thousand dollars and then sold for twelve hundred was recently shipped by express from Caribou, Idaho. The piece was one of seven struck by the government mint of the state. It being thought that a mint could best be operated on the spot, this project started out. However, after seven pieces had been issued, the project was abandoned. The piece that

Know the Place
"Travelled?" said a sailor in a train to a passenger who had questioned him. "I should think I have.
I've been all around the world; even an under it, too. There isn't many ports I don't know the inside of."

"Why, you must know a lot about the world," said the passenger.
"Yes, we did put in there once, but only to coal the ship.aint much of a place, what I remember of it."

He: "Where is it, my dear?"

"Oh, I've already got rid of it."
"Unlucky the butcher took it."

Up the Hill

Old Mrs. Parker was pretty sick, and the darky doctor promptly put him to bed and laid down all sorts of rules and regulations as to sleep and diet.
After he had gone Mrs. Parker to her wife and complained:

"Mandy, how does dat dere fool

Cultivate National Spirit

John Inrie Tells Easterners About Our Greatest Problem

"While we have many economic problems in Canada, our greatest problem is not economic but spiritual. It requires maintenance of a national character, a nationhood, with the sense of a geography that is a constant invitation to sectionalism," said John Inrie, managing director of the Edmonton Journal, in an address at Halifax.

Mr. Inrie spoke on "Carving out a new Northwest," and declared the present movements to the north and west of Canada were much broader than previous immigration and settlement.

Referring to unemployment recommendations of the Duncan report, he said: "The rest of Canada owes it to the Maritimes to see that these recommendations are made effective."

Washable Shoes

Cotton Footwear Said To Be More Comfortable Than Leather

If won't be long now until the ladies will take up the idea of giving themselves shoes on the washboard, and hang them out to dry.

Washable cotton shoes were among the most interesting exhibits at the fashion show of the National Association of Footwear Manufacturers held in New York.

The shoes, in addition to being washable, will be much lighter and more comfortable than leather, exhibitors said. They are made of suitable cotton fabrics—silks, faille—new cotton fabrics, and with heel heads built on thin leather soles. The pattern, in pastel shades, will be bordered with a fringe of 18-carat embroidery.

Kings Of the Jungle

All Beasts Yield To Wild Dogs Of India

When the pack of India's wild dogs, jungle, write John Campbell, in the Atlantic Monthly, all other game leaves. The wild dog is courageous but, supremely indifferent, apparently, to his own fate provided the pack survives.

He does not kill but runs it down and eats it alive, till it dies of exhaustion, then devours it.

I have seen a pack of twenty-five, including a river valley, beating through the high grass in a straight line which they kept by jumping vertically every now and then and then break glass right and left to watch the small grass tops which inclose their prey.

Once they get on to a prey, they never let go. They will attack anything from man and tiger to leopard and vulture.

It sounds incredible, but I have seen four of them round a tree where a most uncomforatable looking leopard had taken refuge. They sat on the tree and beat him repeatedly. Soon or later they knew the leopard would have to make a bolt for it; and when that time came perhaps two of them might be killed, but those who had the fortune to survive would get the leopard.

Here is how they are: heads like Scotch collies, heavy orange-yellow coats, bushy tails, "breed" in form, and in perfect condition. The government, by the way, pays three pounds a head for the dogs; but this high reward for India has but little effect. They are very difficult to get.

First comes the eyes, defects of which cause 75 per cent. of the rejections for unfitness. The pilot's eyes must have depth perception for a flier constantly must judge distance of and landing. Eye muscle co-ordination is necessary.

"Lack of co-ordination and the ability to maintain single vision," says Dr. Bauer, "is likely to cause fatigue. Fatigue causes headaches. Headaches cause dizziness. Dizziness causes fainting. That's the reason why pilots are examined semi-annually."

Color vision is important, too, because the pilot must be able to recognize navigation lights and other signals. Sharpness of eyes and greenish tint of the eyes are characters of the terrain to aid in landing. A wide field of vision is essential for a pilot must be able to see objects out of the corner of his eye while looking directly forward.

First Snowfall Does Not Stay Long

A drop in temperature and a light fall of snow brought a change in the weather last Saturday evening, Nov. 9th. By Sunday morning the snow had all disappeared, and mild weather again prevails. This snowfall did not extend north of Red Deer.

CURLERS GETTING READY FOR THE ROarin' GAME

Following the annual meeting of the curling club last week fresh interest has been kindled in the "roarin' game," and as the cold weather approaches curlers are beginning to play again. Numerous and an interesting set of houses to their hands.

Skins have been busy all week getting curlers, and already many rinks are carefully "picked." There will be at least ten rinks this year, with a possibility of twelve.

The Bow Valley Constituency U. F. A. Association will hold their annual convention at the Hotel Bow Valley on Friday, Nov. 15. The convention will be held in the Masonic Community Hall in the afternoon. At night there is a public meeting, and following this a dance will be held.

The skeleton of a man, found along the flow river near Midway, has been identified as that of E. Wade, father of Ted Wade, a resident of the Bassano district for a number of years.
